G.P. and District Flying Club Re-Organize Wed.

Enthusiastic Meeting Of Opinion That Club Should Be Revived—Bob Thorp Elected President; P. J. Tooley Is Secretary—Able Advisory Board Appointed.

There was a fair attendance at the meeting of the Grande Prairie and District Flying Club held in the Town Hall council chamber on Wednesday night.

President George Rogers, who was in the chair, explained that the purpose of the meeting was to decide whether or not the club should be re-organized as at present it was practically dead.

The financial report indicated that there was a small balance in the bank and outstanding obligations to the amount of $87.

P. J. Tooley said that the purpose of the meeting was to find out if there is sufficient enthusiasm to revive the flying school.

In answer to a question, the president stated that the majority of the old members live out of town.

Cliff Black said that as he saw it, the club should pay off its indebtedness and forget about it, or else put the club on a different basis than it has been.

Bob Thorp: "We would like to know what the business men present think about it."

Mr. Tooley gave it as his opinion that proceedings should be taken to organize a flying school and then affiliate with the Edmonton Flying School.

Mayor Lawlor suggested that the club be revived and that it get in touch with some pilot who would be willing to come with his plane.

It was unanimously agreed that the flying school could not be financed locally.

O. B. Harris, president of the Board of Trade, said that the members of the club deserved a great deal of credit for the work they had done, and he thought the flying school should be continued. To bring matters to a head, he moved: "That we go ahead and re-organize the Grande Prairie and District Flying Club." The resolution was seconded by J. A. Whitlock and was unanimously carried.

Election of Officers

The officers were then elected, and they are:

President—Bob Thorp.
Vice-President—J. W. Neil.
Secretary—P. J. Tooley.
Advisory Board—Mayor T. W. Lawlor, J. A. Whitlock, Wes. Bentley, O. B. Harris and Bill Goetz.

The president and secretary were empowered to sign cheques and conduct the general banking business of the club.

The club fee was set at one dollar per year.

The following membership committee was elected: George Rogers, J. W. Neil and Cliff Black.

It was felt that the future holds a lot for a flying club and every effort should be put forth to give it the necessary support.

The date of the next meeting will be set by the president.

Representative Of 'Canadian Aviation' A Visitor Here

R. A. Keith, western representative for Canadian Aviation, published at Ottawa, was a passenger on the airliner "Yukon Queen," which, because of a blinding snowstorm, was grounded for some hours on Clairmont Lake.

Seen at the Donald Hotel by The Tribune reporter, Mr. Keith, who was on his second trip to the Peace River, said that he was making the journey to get material for a story on the route to Vancouver and on the new Barkley-Grow airliner, on which he was travelling.

Discussing the importance of air communication in the Northwest, Mr. Keith observed that at Ottawa they do not seem to realize just the importance of such a service. "These 'bush routes'," he said, "are more important in exploring and developing new western country than any other factor. In the absence of railways and other means of transportation every effort should be made to develop airports and encourage the use of aeroplanes in travel."

Mr. Keith, who on his first visit to this country a year ago went as far as the Yukon, will return from the Coast via Grande Prairie.

Banquet G.P. Ladies' Curling Club Most Enjoyable Affair

Members of seven rinks who compose the Grande Prairie Ladies' Curling Club enjoyed a sumptuous annual banquet at the Donald Cafe on Thursday evening last.

On behalf of the club, the president expressed regrets on losing Mrs. "Reg" Skitch, a most active member, who leaves shortly for Vegreville. She extended best wishes to Mrs. Skitch.

The financial statement, which showed a favorable balance, was submitted by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Harry Archibald.

Where Giant, Tangled Chunks of Ice Formed Death Trap for Eight at East Pine

In the darkness in the early hours of Saturday, March 25, death and disaster struck the tiny hamlet of East Pine, about 40 miles from Dawson Creek, B.C., in the Peace River Block, when ice in the Murray River suddenly formed a jam and backed up the waters. Residents tumbled from their beds as the water gained height at sickening speed, but a man and his wife and six children failed to get in the clear, and died. These huge blocks of ice moved and crushed as the band of northern pioneers sought to get to safety. This picture was taken from on top of the ice jam after daylight came Saturday. The man standing in the ice crevasse serves to show in graphic style the size of the huge blocks of ice.

Grande Prairie Art Club's First Art Exhibition Made Highly Creditable Showing

Exhibition Officially Opened By Mayor Lawlor, Who Complimented President Philip And Those Associated With Him On The Success Of The Exhibition—Exhibits Well Arranged—Vegreville Art Club Had Splendid Exhibit Of Watercolors—Local Exhibits Were Good—Large Attendance All Afternoon And Evening.

"Most creditable showing" was the unanimous verdict of the large crowd that attended the Grande Prairie Art Club's first exhibition, held in the Speke Hall on Saturday, which included the evening.

The exhibition was officially opened by Mayor Lawlor at 2 p.m. His Worship said that it was a honor to be called upon to open the first art exhibition ever held by a local organization. He complimented the president, Mr. Philip, and those associated with him on the outstanding success of the exhibition.

"It is the business of art to develop nature," observed Mr. Lawlor, who added that before languages were evolved people used drawings to convey thought.

Large Crowd See Bang Up Boxing Card At Rycroft

RYCROFT, Apr. 3.—A bang-up crowd turned out to see the boxing card staged in the Agricultural Hall on the night of Friday, March 31. The card, which included no less than nine bouts, was sponsored by the Rycroft Curling Club.

The boxing was all to the good and the fans were given many thrills. All the boys were well matched and refereed Tommy Thompson was called upon to make several very fine decisions.

In the semi-final Cameron Scott and Fred Lazeruk fought four rounds to a draw.

Lawrence Onysco and Lyle Halverson appeared in the opener. The boys fought two lively rounds to a draw.

Cyril Walker won by a technical K.O. over Tom Lazeruk after the final third round had gotten nicely under way.

In a scheduled three-round affair Mike Bzowy put Steve Didow to slumberland in a minute and a half of fighting in the second round.

A dance followed the boxing.

SOCIAL CREDIT GROUP ENJOYS SOCIAL EVENING

A most enjoyable social evening was held in the I.O.O.F. Hall by the Grande Prairie Social Credit Group on Wednesday. The entertainment included progressive whist, musical program, and tap-dancing.

"I now declare this art exhibition officially opened," said His Worship. The Art Club is justified in feeling encouraged by the splendid attendance, both in the afternoon and evening.

The exhibits were well arranged and the whole ensemble presented a most pleasing effect.

The exhibition was a wonderful first try and its success has laid the foundation for still greater and finer exhibitions in the future.

There was a showing for school children between 10 a.m. and noon.

The wall space of the hall was practically wholly covered by the exhibits, which consisted of watercolor paintings, oil paintings, tempera paintings, pen and ink drawings, steel engravings, pencil drawings, clay modelling, silverpoint drawings, and colored crayon drawings.

The exhibits were divided into sections: Grande Prairie Art Club, Grande Prairie district, Vegreville Art Club, and the work of Miss E. McNaught of Beaver Lodge, who has acted as teacher since the local Art Club was formed on September 30 of last year.

In addition the following artists were interested and kind enough to send pictures: Mrs. Zoon Dingman of Calgary and Dr. William Rowan of the University of Alberta.

It is extremely difficult to single out from among the many excellent exhibits those that might be specially mentioned, and on account of the large number of exhibits it is quite impossible to separately comment on them.

Miss McNaught's exhibits were just back from Edmonton after being specially exhibited for the month of February in a "one-man show" at the Normal School there. Miss McNaught's painting is very decided and is typically western Canadian—clear-cut, yes, maybe somewhat harsh, but very western. Her drawing of animals is exquisite and rhythm was especially noticeable in the two lovely sepias sketches.

Those living in the Peace River area will have an opportunity of hearing the cantata, as it is being broadcast over station CEGP this (Thursday) evening, commencing at 8 o'clock.

LONDON, Apr. 5.—Savage anti-British propaganda fills the German press as reports reach it that Poland's Foreign Minister is likely to conclude an agreement with Britain to check Hitler's ambition to dominate all Europe. Poland is warned of the fate in store for her if she lines up with the democratic powers. Britain is represented as Germany's deadly enemy. Chamberlain is asserted to have been driven from his appeasement policy by "less responsible forces in Britain." The German press has decided Britain now has challenged Germany's right to expand over eastern Europe.

Grand Opening Of Memorial Hall To Be Held End April

Vimy Night To Be Held In Connection With Annual Meeting To Be Held At Same Time—Date To Be Announced Later.

Owing to the cold weather and the condition of the roads, the grand opening of the Memorial Hall of the Grande Prairie Branch of the Canadian Legion has been postponed until some time towards the end of this month.

As Vimy Day (April 9) this year falls on Easter Sunday, the annual meeting and election of officers and Vimy Night will be held on the opening night of the Memorial Hall.

The postponement was considered necessary by the president and executive to allow the country members to attend. The date will be announced later.

Great Building Activity Along American Coast

Said Tom Watt, Who With Mrs. Watt Returned Home On Friday From The Coast, Where They Spent The Winter—Visited Treasure Island Exhibition—Intense Feeling Against Hitler Along The American Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Watt of the Beaver Lodge district were passengers on Friday's train en route from the Coast, where they spent the winter.

A month of that time was spent in the United States, remarked Tom to The Tribune reporter. He added that they had visited the "Treasure Island Exhibition at San Francisco."

Reporter: "What is your opinion of the exhibition?"

Tom: "From an industrial standpoint it was not as large as we had expected to see. The lighting effects are simply wonderful, and taking the exhibition as a whole it is worth going to see."

"One of the things that struck us while travelling along the coast on the American side was the mammoth amount of work which was being done through the expenditure of federal money," observed Tom, who went on to say bridges and roads everywhere were in process of construction, with the result that everywhere seemed busy. There was a great deal of building and carpenters were getting from $10 to $12 a day.

That there was an intense feeling against the Nazis, and especially against Hitler, along the American coast, was another statement by both Mr. and Mrs. Watt.

They travelled by bus to and from Edmonton, and described the highway from Edmonton to the boundary line as one of the finest on which they had travelled. Both Mr. and Mrs. Watt looked the better for their trip.

"We had a most enjoyable trip, but we are glad to get back home again," remarked Mrs. Watt just before they stepped aboard the train.

PEASANTS WINTER WELL IN FLYING SHOT DISTRICT

A Smart of Flying Shot, who with his daughter, Elizabeth, was a visitor in Grande Prairie on Wednesday, in conversation with The Tribune reporter stated that a small flock of pheasants which have made their headquarters along the creek had wintered well. The birds, he observed, stuck around on a bundle of sticks. He further stated that the pheasants regularly visit his barnyard and mingle with the domestic fowl. "They're not a bit afraid," Mr. Smart added.

Local Teachers Held Interesting Meeting April 1st

The regular monthly meeting of the local teachers in the Grande Prairie district was held in the High School on Saturday afternoon, April 1. Despite the bad roads, some of the rural teachers were able to attend.

The main feature of the meeting was the discussion of resolutions for the Easter convention. Judging by the number of the resolutions, the teachers of Alberta are greatly interested in the problems of education.

Organization for the Field and Track Meet, May 7, was briefly discussed. It was felt that in the best interests of the province, separate eliminations should be held for the rural schools and the town schools. The rural teachers of Grande Prairie district should make a concerted effort to organize for a large an elimination as possible. Further details will be left to committees and to the teachers in general at the next meeting, May 8.

Grande Prairie district's two delegates for the convention to be held in Edmonton during Easter week are: Miss Mayer, Twilight School; Mr. Freebury, Montrose School.

Mrs. Elphicke also addressed the meeting in regard to picture at the Capitol Theatre, "Youth Marches On."

SIXTEEN INCHES OF SNOW FELL AT G.P. AND DISTRICT

According to the local meteorological station, exactly 16 inches of snow fell in the recent snow storm, which was the heaviest of the winter.

Farmers contacted by The Tribune say that the snow is all to the good, as there is very little frost in the ground and the moisture will soak into the soil.

Prior to the recent snow storm 60 inches of snow had fallen in Grande Prairie and surrounding district.

Sitting Of District Court Held At G.P.

A sitting of the District Court was held at Grande Prairie on Friday and Monday, presided over by His Honor Judge Matheson.

Cases up for trial were adjourned till next month.

Considerable chambers matters were dealt with.

There were eight applications for naturalization, all of which were approved.

Bryce Burns And Orville Willis, Both Of Sexsmith, Injured In Same Accident, Which Occurred In Edmonton—Ward Had Gone To Capital City To Take A Position—Funeral Will Probably Be Held On Saturday.

SEXXSMITH, Apr. 4.—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hall received the tragic news by wire on Sunday morning of the death of their son, Ward Wm. Hall, in an automobile accident near the Low Level Bridge in Edmonton. In the same car were two other Sexsmith boys, Bryce Burns and Orville Willis, who were injured and are now in hospital.

From accounts received so far, the car in which they were riding evidently skidded on the hill, crashed into the curb, took off a rear wheel, and then struck a telephone post, breaking it off.

The injured were rushed to the hospital and, although everything possible was done, Ward passed away two or three hours after admittance.

"Bunky," as he was better known to his many friends, was born on March 15, 1922, and lived all his life in Sexsmith, with the exception of a few trips outside. He made many friends, and we believe we are safe in saying that he did not have an enemy.

Last fall "Bunky" was promised a job in the High Level Service Station, Edmonton, and he left on last Friday's train to start on it. Many of his friends were at the station to wish him good luck, little thinking that this would be the last time they would see him alive.

No date has been set for the funeral at this time, but in all probability it will be on Saturday morning, April 8.

Falher Woman Loses Life When Home Burns

Mrs. Alphonse Campbell Is Supposed To Have Been Heating Gasoline Preparatory To Washing When It Exploded—Husband Badly Burned While Heroically Attempting To Save His Wife—Two Children Fortunately Were Boarding At The Convent.

FALHER, Apr. 5.—Mrs. Alphonse Campbell, age 40, lost her life in a fire which totally destroyed the home about 9 o'clock this morning.

Details of the tragedy are lacking, but it is thought that Mrs. Campbell was heating gasoline preparatory to cleaning clothes when it exploded. The house immediately became a mass of flames.

Mr. Campbell was severely burned while desperately striving to rescue his wife. He was rushed to the McLeod Hospital.

Two young children fortunately were not at home, as they are attending school at Falher and boarding at St. Anne's Convent.

"Yukon Queen" Is Marooned Here By Severe Snow Storm

"The Yukon Queen," first of a fleet of three up-to-the-minute airliners in the service of the Yukon-Southern Air Transport, Limited, which took off from Fairchild on Sunday at noon and landed on Clairmont Lake on wheels, on a scheduled trip.

Owing to the deep snow, which made it impossible to take off, the plane did not get away until Tuesday at noon after being fitted with skis which were flown here from Fort St. John by Pilot Dame in a Fairchild plane.

Dame acted as a sort of aero-taxi driver when her plane left Clairmont Lake. She made no less than five short trips, which included runs out to the airport and in and out to Clairmont Lake.

The pilots and passengers were brought into town on Sunday evening by P. J. Tooley, the company's agent at this point. Owing to the blinding snow and the condition of the highway, it took three hours to negotiate the six miles by motorcar.

Oil News From The Oil Scout

THE GUARDIAN OIL WELL IN THE POUCO COUPE FIELD

BONANZA, Mar. 30.—The Guardian well, situated on 7-80-12 W. 6th, comprising 6,901 acres of oil leases, approximately 27 miles northwest of the town of Pouco Coupe, B.C., inside the Alberta boundary, was spudded in on June 14, 1938, in the presence of a distinguished gathering, including Glen Braden, M.P.P. for Peace River Block. The light rotary rig was christened with a bottle of champagne, which made the crew's mouth water, and the spudding in was under way under the supervision of John Lund, drilling superintendent, and the crew brought direct from Turner Valley.

The speech made by Mr. Braden and the Chaplain was to the effect that probably new history was to be made also, for with the probable striking of oil the whole history and development of the Peace River Block and northern Alberta would undergo a decided stepping up in its development and advance.

No water was struck until 650 feet was made—evidently the heavy gumbo nature of the country is not conducive for subterranean reservoirs.

The first gas encountered was at 832 feet and was quite a volume, but on account of the casing could not be measured, but it was lit up and a good show was put on for the visitors and the surrounding country-side settlers who hurried over, thinking the well was on fire.

The second gas showing was at 2,320 feet. This showing also contained good showings of oil, which came up with the drilling mud.

The third showing was at 2,365 feet, and was a really good showing of oil, and upon this being reached the oil poured out in a steady stream, quite black in color and a heavy froth riding on top of it, much the same as on beer.

The driller on lower let it pour out as it came in the drilling fluid for about 45 minutes so that the boys could get a good gander and do some speculating as to the flow, and then the driller ordered the well to be used heavier mud and keep on going.

The consensus of opinion among the crew was that the flow looked to be about from 20 to 50 barrels a day, and that the well was equipped with the necessary equipment for testing, we could not do much about it. Anyhow, it is figured that we can always come back and shoot it through the casing if necessary.

The objective is to carry on down to between 4,000 and 4,500 feet, where it is expected that the real heavy oil producing sand will be encountered and a good well at shallow depth brought in.

The drilling crew and those closely connected with the well are very optimistic, particularly because the predictions of E. R. Lovell, who selected the site, have been accurately borne out by the drill, foot by foot, and have been logged in the old Imperial North-West well 3 1/2 miles away.

And these findings and predictions by Mr. Lovell, looking so accurate, one inclines to have no faith in anything if they could not accept this as decidedly encouraging for production at the lower depth, as predicted by geologist who made a most exhaustive study of the structure in this Peace River part of northern Alberta.

The well was shut down on November 30, 1938, through lack of water. It is standing now at 2,460 feet and cased and cemented in hard sandstone with a good clean hole.

The crew is now installing a new 80 h.p. boiler, making four in all, and it is expected that they will be rolling along in two or three weeks.

A large dam on the outlet of the boiler room is full of snow water—enough for all summer.

Every inhabitant in this Peace River country is firmly convinced that there is plenty of oil in this country.

Canada 1939

The Tribune recently received from the King's Printer a copy of the 1939 edition of the Official Handbook of Canada. It is a very interesting publication.

Canada 1939 covers the present situation in the Dominion from Atlantic to Pacific, the weight of emphasis being placed on those aspects which are currently of most importance. All phases of the country's economic organization are dealt with and statistics are brought up to the latest possible moment. The text is accompanied by a wealth of illustrative matter, which adds to the interest of the subjects treated. There are also two photographic inserts and four double-page plates.

The economic survey is covered in eighteen chapters dealing with population, production, internal and external trade, transportation, education, etc., and an Introduction which reviews succinctly the world situation and conditions in Canada up to the time of going to press.

The feature article this year is entitled "The Unemployment Youth Problem—Steps Toward Its Solution," in addition to outlining the problem and its effect on society generally, the article shows how the provincial governments and the Dominion government are cooperating to solve the problem in the many aspects it presents.

The price of the publication is 25 cents per copy, which charge covers merely the cost of paper and the press work. A special price concession has been authorized in the case of teachers, bona fide students, and ministers of religion, since past experience has shown that considerable use has been made of this publication for educational purposes, and it is the policy of the Minister to encourage such use.

To secure a copy, the price is set at 10 cents for one copy. Postage stamps are not acceptable, and applications must be accompanied by a postal note or by the appropriate coin enclosed between two squares of thin cardboard gummed together at the edges. Applications should be addressed to the King's Printer, Government Printing Bureau, Ottawa, Canada, and, since the supply is strictly limited, early application is suggested.

The Eskimos of Smith Sound, near Greenland, live farther north than any other people in the world.

RELIEF FOR SEASICKNESS IS OBTAINED BY INHALING 100 PER CENT OXYGEN

Experiments tried on seasick passengers while on cruise to the West Indies have proved that inhalation of 100 per cent oxygen gave relief to them, bringing them from their seasick condition to health and permitting them to retain food. It would appear that the discovery is not yet 100 per cent efficient, but the hopes of thousands who, unlike Britanians, have not yet learned to rule the waves.

AERONAUTICAL TIT-BITS

By J. W. Neil

THE KING AND THE ROYAL AIR FORCE

His Majesty King George VI, who succeeded to the throne on December 10, 1936, has been closely connected with the Royal Air Force since 1917 and at the time of his accession held the rank of Air Chief Marshal.

His Royal Highness Prince Albert Arthur George, the second son of His Majesty King George V, was born in 1895 when his father was Duke of York and before his grandfather, the late King Edward VII, succeeded to the throne. He entered the Royal Air Force in 1914 and saw active service with the Fleet soon after the outbreak of war in 1914.

He was mentioned in Admiral Jellicoe's dispatch after the Battle of Jutland in 1916 for distinguished conduct. A serious illness prevented his return to active service with the Fleet and in November, 1917, he was appointed to the Royal Naval Air Service and posted to Cranwell for administrative duties. When the Royal Air Force was formed in April, 1918, the King wished one of his sons to serve with the new arm, and Prince Albert was appointed to the Royal Air Force with the rank of Captain.

His Royal Highness had already had experience of air travel, for in May, 1917, he had flown in a Service aeroplane, accompanied by Surgeon Lieutenant Commander Louis Greig, R.N.

During the time when he was stationed at Cranwell, His Royal Highness did the ordinary duties of an R.N.A.S. officer, and at the same time qualified in all ground subjects in which instruction was given at that station. He did not, however, learn to fly but he took every opportunity of getting air experience and made many flights in Service machines.

When he served with the King at Cranwell remember him as a keen young officer who took every opportunity to improve his knowledge of the Service, and who entered with interest into the pastimes of the troops. Although at that time not sufficiently robust to take part competitively in such sports as football and boxing, he played lawn tennis joined in the cross-country runs and would put on the gloves and spar with instructors. In August, 1918, he was posted to the R.A.F. Cadet Brigade at Folkestone, and there spent three months of physical training. While he was there the Brigade was inspected by the King. Air Folkestone, he remembered as a highly efficient officer who played an active part in the work of the Brigade as well as other duties all over the country required of the King's son.

On October 23, 1918, he was appointed to headquarters of the Independent Air Force and served as a staff officer, third class, in that command under Major General Sir Hugh Trenchard until the Armistice. He was also attached to the Royal Air Force headquarters in France and remained there until February, 1919, when he returned to England to take the rank of Air Chief Marshal.

On his return to England in February, 1919, he was posted to the Air Ministry for flying instruction with No. 29 (Training) Squadron at Croydon. No. 29 Squadron was a unit of the Communication Wing, commanded by Wing Commander Harold Primrose, and was formed to give "refresher" flying to those pilots who were out of practice by reason of having been prisoners of war, unfit for flying duties on medical grounds or because they had been on ground duties. Prince Albert was described as a most conscientious and painstaking pupil who attended regularly for instruction and finally attained the necessary proficiency for the award of "Wings." For reasons of state he was not allowed to go into the air alone, but he became a fully qualified and efficient pilot. Up to the date of passing the qualifying tests (July 26, 1919) he refused to wear the badge of a pilot.

On August 1, 1919, he was appointed to a permanent commission in the R.A.F. as a Flight Lieutenant. In October of that year he was attached to the Midland area for a course of instruction at Cranwell University, and on July 1, 1920, he ceased active duty but remained on the active list minus pay or allowances. He was promoted to Squadron Leader on November 1, 1920, to Wing Commander on June 3, 1932, to Air Marshal on January 1, 1936, and to Air Chief Marshal on June 23, 1936.

Prince Albert was married to Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, youngest daughter of the Duke of Argyll, on June 26, 1920. On his accession to the throne on December 10, 1936, His Majesty King George VI addressed the following message to the Royal Air Force and to the other Air Forces of the Empire:

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By H. G. L. Strange

Director, Research Dept., Searle Grain Company, Ltd.

A despatch from Bucharest tells us that Rumania has signed a most extensive trade treaty with Germany.

Rumania has agreed to make available to Germany 90 per cent of her surplus wheat (which surplus last year amounted to 32 million bushels), other agricultural products and oil.

In exchange for this Germany agrees to furnish to Rumania agricultural and mining machinery, and other goods which Rumanian people now need. The exchanges will be on a free trade basis.

It will be seen that almost complete trade relations exist between Germany, the former Austria, what was Czechoslovakia, and now Rumania.

This will certainly result in raising the standard of living of all the people in this large European area.

As these benefits are realized these freer trade practices will no doubt spread, perhaps over the whole of Europe.

Where then, one might ask, will stand those countries, such as Canada, Australia and the United States, which now hold large untold supplies of foodstuffs, and which countries are curtailing the sale of those foodstuffs by restricting the importation of other people's goods?

Would it not be wise in time to note the handwriting on the wall and to make the distribution of surplus foodstuffs easier by lowering those high tariffs which now strangle international trade?

Following factors have tended to raise prices: Demand from China exceeding all expectations; the war in Europe; the Canadian wheat situation; the European emergency stocks depress values and prevent normal purchases—Liverpool importing British wheat at a premium; insurance rates increased—Negligible European wheat demand—Heavy Liverpool wheat stocks adequate for limited milling industry.

TORONTO STUDENT WRITES NEW MARCH "WELCOME TO CANADA" FOR ROYAL VISIT

A stirring march, "Welcome To Canada," written especially for the May visit of the King and Queen, will soon be heard at concerts.

It was written a short time ago by Fred Evis, a law student at the University of Toronto. The march will be played by the Canadian Forces Band, and it has been generally endorsed by radio artists and the music profession.

A French version of the composition will be made by an outstanding Quebec radio singer, Evis, who was graduated by Victoria College in 1934, has been requested to revise the song so that it may be used by people in the United States.

AFRICAN NATIVES OPPOSED TO RETURNING TO GERMAN RULE

There is no desire in the former German Colonies to return to German rule, said Dr. Haden Guest, M.P., when he arrived at Plymouth after a three months' tour of Africa. "The vast bulk of the population," he said, "is very appreciative indeed of the benefits obtained under British and French administration. Among the natives there is a very great loyalty to, and pride in the British Empire."

Dr. Haden Guest was a member of a commission, comprising four M.P.s and four technical experts, who went to investigate conditions in West Africa at the invitation of the Everhulme Research Fellowship Committee. "I am confident that the only policy to retain West Africa for the Africans," he said.

It is essential to keep native laws current and methods of farming and the basis of prosperity for the country and to maintain the most cordial relations between natives and English. He said that there was an opening in certain areas for settlers, and he thought it would be worthwhile exploring the possibility of sending Jewish refugees.

Councillor Watson, chairman of the fire committee, submitted his report, which he said was drawn up with the cooperation of the fire chief, Chester Miller.

Moral Re-armament

NEW YORK, Mar. 31.—Sheaves of welcoming telegrams poured in from American sportsmen to greet H. W. "Bunny" Austin, Britain's No. 1 tennis champion, as he stepped off the Aquitania in New York today.

This great British amateur sportsman looked fit and well in spite of the fact that he had addressed football crowds totalling 100,000 in the past fortnight as part of his Moral Re-Armament campaign.

"I am coming to America—and I hope Canada, also—in the interests of Moral Re-Armament," said Austin. "I believe it is the task of sportsmen to help put the ideals of the playfield into the life of the nation."

He believes that we must get into every area of our life some of the discipline, the self-giving, the team work which sport requires.

"Sport unites the nation in recreation ground, gym, and stadium. A new sporting spirit can unite the nation in office, workshop, and home," he said.

The tennis star, though small in stature and slight of build, is one of the most formidable fighters on the tennis courts. He feels that he can put that same pep and steel-willed determination into the fight for a morally re-armed world which will be crisis-proof and war-proof.

"I determined at the time of the crisis last September to throw all my energies into this task," he said in an interview on his arrival today. Moral Re-Armament is the one constructive answer to all crises—the one program on which leaders of every nation can agree.

It has spread like wildfire in Britain.

Among the scores of telegrams from headlines in American sportsworld were messages from Jessie Owens, Melvin Walker, David Albritton, and from Julian S. Murick, president of the international club. Dick Harlow, Harvard football coach, wired: "Hope your message of Moral Re-Armament may reach the hearts of millions of our boys just as your ideas on sportsmanship."

G.P. Art Club...

Dr. Rowan's silverpoint of his daughter might also be described as exquisite. Mrs. Dunning's still life was especially appealing.

The Vegreville exhibit, which was a very large one, consisted wholly of very fine watercolors. This club is only a little over two years old, and a lovely technique has been developed under Mr. Glyde of Calgary, who during the past two years has conducted art courses under direction of the Extension Department of the University of Alberta. Mrs. Reid, president of the club, and who last year was honored by the Canadian Society of Watercolor Artists by having one of her pictures accepted and hung at its annual exhibition, had four pictures on exhibit.

Miss Ada Wright's picture of "Crabapples" was much admired, also the picture of a Ukrainian farmhouse by an unnamed painter. The pictures done by Miss Crawford, P. Chilbeck and Mrs. McLean were especially admired. The clarity of many of these watercolors was quite remarkable.

The Grande Prairie club, having had such a short existence, could not be expected to have a large showing. However, what was exhibited was of excellent quality and showed such wonderful promise that a very high standard for the next exhibition can be looked for.

Unfortunately the school exhibits were not as many as might have been, being confined to Grande Prairie schools. It is hoped that next year will see a larger exhibit from the schools of the district. What was shown, however, was quite encouraging, and indicated that art is not being neglected in the schools. An especially fine picture was exhibited was especially fine.

The ladies of the club served a delightful tea in a very informal manner to the guests.

Furniture, kindly loaned by J. B. Oliver, was arranged so that visitors could comfortably enjoy refreshments and at the same time inspect the pictures.

The club is greatly indebted to all who assisted in any way in making the exhibition the wonderful success it was. While the charge made was quite small, the club realized a substantial sum, which will be used for furnishing books, etc., for the use of the club.

Unfortunately the club is losing the valued services of Mrs. David Carlisle, its first president, who is leaving to reside at Peterborough, Ont. Much of the success of the club must be attributed to her for the admirable way in which she conducted its affairs.

EGGS FOR EASTER LONG TRADITION

The origin of the Easter egg tradition is lost in antiquity, but year after year the delightful practice of adorning the breakfast table with eggs on Easter Sunday morning continues. It matters not that the first fresh eggs no longer come with Easter, the beginning of Spring. The modern model of the humble hen may, and usually does, produce her excellent product the year round. Easter is still associated with eggs, with the hen scratching in the warming earth, newly aware of her destiny.

Eggs, in the Easter tradition, are always boiled in the shell for children, of course, they must be colored, with one of an infinite variety of home or commercial preparations. No parents, treasuring childhood memories of bowls of multi-colored eggs on Easter morning, would deny a similar pleasure to their children.

For children, pullet eggs, if they are available, will prove an added attraction, their small size lending a youthful touch and having the further practical advantage of enabling Junior to dispose of a greater number of eggs. The eggs, under the designation of Grade A Pullet. They weigh approximately an ounce and a half each. Grade A Large eggs weigh two ounces or more.

Eggs are so sensitive to heat in cooking that it is easy to overcook them, or cook them poorly. When they are cooked in the shell a precise method is necessary to cook them to the right degree. Use one pint of water for the first egg and one cup of water for each additional egg. Bring the water to the boiling point. The shape of the kettle should be such that the water will cover the egg. Place the egg in the water and cover the kettle. Remove from the heat and keep the water hot but not boiling for 6 to 8 minutes, depending upon the degree of cooking desired, for soft cooked or medium eggs. For hard cooked eggs, follow the direction for soft cooked, allowing the eggs to simmer 30-35 minutes. Cool eggs quickly by plunging them into cold water, or letting cold water run over them in order to prevent the blackened surface of the yolk. Hard cooked eggs can be used in a number of ways to give variety.

DARDANELLES TO BE OPEN TO BRITISH-FRENCH WARSHIPS

PARIS, Apr. 5.—France was reported in informed quarters Wednesday to have assured Roumania that in the event of a European war the Dardanelles would be open to French and British warships. "Bustly building the southern part of the 'stop Hitler' bloc, France was said to have received assurances from Turkey, which controls the entrance to the Black Sea and Roumania's 'back door,' of support for the French-British line-up to preserve the independence of small European countries. In exchange, these sources said, Turkey was told she could eventually annex the Sanjak of Alexandretta.

EARLY HATCHED CHICKS BEST (Experimental Farms News)

Time of hatching has an important influence on the future life and usefulness of a chick and may mean the difference between profit and loss to the farmer or poultryman.

Observations made at the Indian Head Experimental Farm with Barred Rock poultry over a period of years indicate that for satisfactory results under western conditions chicks should be hatched before May 15, states W. W. Cram, assistant in Live Stock at Indian Head.

Pullets hatched during April or by May 15 will usually commence to lay in October or November when from six to seven months of age. Well developed birds from good production strains, properly housed, fed and cared for, should continue to lay throughout the fall and winter, when egg prices are highest.

Cockerels hatched during the same period will be well grown and developed before winter. Males for breeding can be selected before the birds go into winter quarters and the surplus readily finished for market.

Chicks that are hatched later than May 15 frequently fail to make sufficient growth before cold weather and later growth is slowed up. Late hatched birds often fail to develop satisfactorily and the pullets may not commence laying before December, January, or even March.

Under average prairie farm conditions there is no advantage in hatching earlier than April. Pullets starting to lay during the summer or early fall appear more subject to fall than those maturing during October and November.

A Women's Question
